Algonquin College students to experience
“24 Hours of Homelessness”

Students in Algonquin College’s Community and Justice Services program will spend the night in a downtown park as a part of the program’s fifth annual “24 Hours of Homelessness” project. This initiative provides second-year students with a firsthand experience of the issues homeless face on a daily basis. “24 Hours of Homelessness” helps to raise awareness and funds for Operation Come Home, and is sponsored by Crime Prevention Ottawa.
