World Café's in the College Community

Members from all areas of the college community will come together at a World Café during the week of March 9, 2009. World Café's will take place on each Algonquin college campus.

These café's are designed to bring students together to participate in a dynamic dialogue. Participants have the opportunity to define sustainable development at Algonquin, provide their thoughts about the long-term vision of sustainability at the College, and highlight the types of actions required to achieve that vision in Ottawa.

World café's are open to the public. They provide an opportunity for all participants to educate, engage, and contribute. Visit a world café near you.
