

Media Advisory

Date sent: September 12, 2006

Date of event: September 14, 2006

Small World, Big Picture – Expedition Africa Project Launch

1385 Woodroffe Avenue

Ottawa, Ontario

Canada

K2G 1V8

The Small World, Big Picture – Expedition Africa Project will be officially launched at Algonquin College on Thursday, September 14, featuring a video link with Ben Webster, expedition leader, from Cairo, Egypt. The Small World, Big Picture – Expedition Africa Project will traverse the continent of Africa from Egypt to South Africa. This expedition is designed to actively engage Canadian school-aged students, their teachers and their families with respect to the Continent of Africa, its opportunities, challenges and people. Senior officials from local school boards will be in attendance and Ottawa Mayor Bob Chiarelli will be the guest speaker.

Who: Kent MacDonald, Executive Director, Strategy and Business Development, Algonquin College
The Honourable Bob Chiarelli, Mayor, City of Ottawa
Ben Webster, President, Canadian Adventure Productions Inc.
Michael B. Moher, Director, Windsor Essex Catholic District School Board
James G. McCracken, Director, Ottawa-Carleton Catholic District School Board

Public Relations and Communications

Department

Office: 613-727-4723

ext. 7664

Fax: 613-727-7610

What: Small World, Big Picture – Expedition Africa Project Launch

When: Thursday, September 14, 2006
10:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m.

Where: Room T-102
T-Building
Woodroffe Campus
Algonquin College

-30-

Contact:
Andrew McKelvey
Manager, Media Relations
Algonquin College
Office: (613) 727-4723 ext. 5450
Cell: (613) 220-7796