

WEEK

editor@nepeanthisweek.com
luction@nepeanthisweek.com
ssified@nepeanthisweek.com

for your personal non-commercial mission to republish any material ter.

3-7951 • Fax: 723-9589

LETTERS

We welcome your views on anything that appears in the newspaper. Only letters where the writer agrees to be identified will be printed. Due to the volume and other considerations, we cannot promise to print all letters. Writers should include a telephone number where they can be reached, for letters to be confirmed. Letters are subject to editing for length and clarity.

Please send your letter to the editor to Derek Dunn, 9 Camelot Dr., Suite 200, Nepean, Ont., K2G 5W6 or by fax at 723-9589 or e-mail to editor@nepeanthisweek.com.

EDITORIALS AND COLUMNS

Nepean This Week is dedicated to maintaining a free and open discussion of views and issues affecting its readers.

The editorial is the only forum Nepean This Week has to state its view on an issue. The views presented are those of the newspaper as a whole as approved by the publisher and/ or the editor. Columns presented in Nepean This Week are the sole opinions of the authors and may, or may not, reflect the opinions of Nepean This Week.

Copyright in letters to the editor and other materials submitted for publication remains with the author, but the Publisher and its licensees may freely publish them in print, electronic or other forms.

CHRISTIE MAILEY PHOTO

Understanding Nigeria's needs

Dr. Robert Gillett, Algonquin College president and Dr. Ebebe Ukpong, a Nigerian official, sign a memorandum of understanding for 70 Nigerian students to study at Algonquin. All of the students are university graduates and have come to Canada to learn various programs related to network technology. The $2.5 million project marks the first time Algonquin has had an agreement of this degree with another country.