
Log Scaling Course at Algonquin College

Algonquin College and the Ministry of Natural Resources are offering a 3-week log scaling course in the Spring of 2007 in Pembroke.

The Crown Forest Sustainability Act (Crown Timber Act) requires that: “All Timber shall be measured by a licensed scaler or holder of a special permit at the place of cutting or a concentration point adjacent to the place of cutting.”

This spring, Algonquin College in the Ottawa Valley will be offering this preparatory training for individuals who will go on to complete the Ministry of Natural Resources examinations. Algonquin College is the exclusive training provider of this course in Ontario with an over 85% success rate on provincial exams achieved by students who have attended the training.

Program Begins: Monday, April 23, 2007

Tuition Cost: $947.58

Registration deadline is April 1st, 2007
