Seeing is Believing: This is the future of welder training

Join us for this one day event to try for yourself the first and only welding training solution that digitally records motions and objectively scores welding technique while you are performing real arc-on welds or while practicing off-arc welds. The RealWeld Trainer system helps instructors accurately assess performance and skill level of welding trainees under real world conditions.

- Greatly improved training efficiency
- Immediate feedback prompts improved technique
- Pre-configured with ready-to-use welding procedure specifications
- Instructors can develop and customize training scenarios
- Helps lower training costs
