

PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION ESSENTIALS

ENL1004

Course Description

Communication remains a fundamental skill regardless of discipline or field of study. Using an applied approach, students focus on writing, oral communication, and accessing and using information targeting different audiences in both workplace and academic settings. Students develop and strengthen professional communication skills through a combination of lectures, in-class exercises, and independent learning.

For More Information :

