Course Description

Humour is a universal tool of communication and social influence. Students survey the development, use, and value of humour in Canadian visual and creative arts. Varieties of humour, such as irony, satire and farce are positioned in the context of Canadian culture to enhance the student's appreciation of humour and self-awareness.

Course Related Information

Student Academic Responsibilities
Each student is responsible for the following:
- Knowing the due dates for online quizzes, discussion board postings and responses, and written assignments
- Maintaining a folder of all work done in the course during the semester for validation claims in cases of disagreement with faculty
- Keeping both paper and electronic copies of all assignments, marked and unmarked, in case assignments are lost or go missing
- Checking the Brightspace course shell for announcements, as well as one’s Algonquin email account, for messages from both professor and college administration
- Participating in online quizzes and in discussion boards (both posting and responding) as required
- Retaining course outlines for possible future use to support applications for transfer of credit to other educational institutions

Exemptions
You may be exempted from a General Education elective course. There are two ways to receive an exemption:
- You may have taken a course that is very similar to one of the General Education elective courses in your program of studies.
- You may have taken a General Education course that is not similar to Algonquin’s electives, but which clearly addresses one of the General Education theme areas.

For further information, visit the “General Education: Exemptions” site at https://www.algonquincollege.com/gened/exemptions/

Withdrawal From the Course
The last date for withdrawing from courses without academic penalty is printed on your timetable. You are responsible for notifying the professor and for completing the appropriate form for withdrawal with the Registrar.
Confidentiality
Students are required to respect the confidentiality of employer, client and/or patient information, interactions, and practices that occur either on Algonquin College premises, or at an affiliated clinical/field/co-op placement site. Concerns regarding clients, patients, and/or employer practices are to be brought to the attention of the program coordinator, or designated field/clinical/co-op placement supervisor, so that they may be resolved collaboratively. Such concerns are not to be raised publicly either verbally, in writing, or in electronic forums. These matters are to be addressed through established program communication pathways.

College Related Information

Email
Algonquin College provides all full-time students with an e-mail account. This is the address that will be used when the College, your professors, or your fellow students communicate important information about your program or course events. It is your responsibility to ensure that you know how to send and receive e-mail using your Algonquin account and to check it regularly.

Students with Disabilities
If you are a student with a disability, you are strongly encouraged to make an appointment at the Centre for Accessible Learning to identify your needs. Ideally, this should be done within the first month of your program, so that a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) can be provided to your professors. If you are a returning student, please ensure that professors are given a copy of your LOA each semester.

Retroactive Accommodations
Students are expected to meet evaluation and completion deadlines as stated in course outline and course section information documents. In circumstances where evaluation and/or completion deadlines are missed or student performance has been affected by a temporary or permanent disability (including mental health), interim or retroactive accommodations may be considered. In such instances, please consult your course faculty member. For other situations where deferral of evaluations may be warranted, please refer to college policy AA21.

Academic Integrity & Plagiarism
Adherence to acceptable standards of academic honesty is an important aspect of the learning process at Algonquin College. Academic work submitted by a student is evaluated on the assumption that the work presented by the student is his or her own, unless designated otherwise. For further details consult Algonquin College Policies AA18: Academic Dishonesty and Discipline and AA20: Plagiarism

Student Course Feedback
It is Algonquin College’s policy to give students the opportunity to share their course experience by completing a student course feedback survey for each course they take. For further details consult Algonquin College Policy AA25: Student Course Feedback
Use of Mobile Devices in Class

With the proliferation of small, personal mobile devices used for communications and data storage, Algonquin College believes there is a need to address their use during classes and examinations. During classes, the use of such devices is disruptive and disrespectful to others. During examinations, the use of such devices may facilitate cheating. For further details consult Algonquin College Policy AA32: Use of Mobile Devices in Class.

Transfer of Credit

It is the student’s responsibility to retain course outlines for possible future use to support applications for transfer of credit to other educational institutions.

Note: It is the student’s responsibility to refer to the Algonquin College Policies website for the most current information at http://www.algonquincollege.com/policies/
