ALGONQUIN COLLEGE

30 Weeks of Comprehensive Training in English, ESL/EFL Teaching, Curriculum Development and Assessment Methods

THE PROGRAM CURRICULUM INCLUDES:

Methodology in Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language

Students identify the characteristics of the adult learner, examine historical and current methods in second language teaching, explore the contexts of adult learning and teaching, and become familiar with the basics of designing and implementing lesson plans.

Language Learning and Culture

Students critically explore how culture is reflected in language and discussing the relevance of their own and their students' culture for classroom teaching.

Pedagogical Grammar

Students develop a basic understanding of the form, function and use of grammar terminology and teaching methodologies in today's English language classroom.

Introduction to Language and Language Acquisition

Students gain a basic understanding of various systems within language, such as phonology, morphology, syntax, and semantics, as well as psychological, social and historical aspects of language.

Practicum

Students observe an adult EFL classroom in their country of residence and participate in the teaching process to enhance their understanding of teaching techniques in a field placement setting.

Assessment and Evaluation in Second Language Teaching

Students learn the basic principles, procedures and techniques of assessing ESL students' language proficiency and explore alternative methods of evaluating language proficiency.

Adult Literacy and Beginner ESL

Students use appropriate techniques and develop curricula for Adult Literacy programs and for beginner levels of ESL. Topics include the teaching of basic skills in reading, writing and survival communication to beginner learners.

Teaching Reading and Writing

Students develop a greater understanding of ESL teaching methodologies by the adoption of techniques and strategies for integrating all language skills for the purposes of teaching Reading and Writing.

Teaching Listening, Speaking and Pronunciation

Students enhance their understanding of ESL teaching methodologies by adopting techniques and strategies for integrating all language skills for the purposes of teaching Listening and Speaking.

Educational Technology in Second Language Teaching

Students develop an initial understanding of how to use technology in the ESL classroom. By critically evaluating their fit with various educational technologies, students enhance their knowledge of teaching methodologies.

Curriculum Development in English for Specific Purposes

Students develop a further understanding of ESL teaching methodologies through the exploration of current teaching contexts in English for Specific Purposes (ESP) and participate in the development of ESP curricula for existing language programs in Canada and abroad.
