POLICY
1. General

1.1 Students who have access to effective and timely academic advice have increased ability to make informed decisions about their studies and have higher chances of remaining committed to academic success and career goals.

1.2 Academic Advising is an integrated and systematic service that provides students with the opportunity to plan, discuss, and review academic progress and to address challenges that may impede successful performance. Academic Advising proactively addresses students’ needs, increases student satisfaction, improves retention and student success, and enhances the quality of academic life.

1.3 Academic Advising strengthens students’ connection to the program and to the College as a whole.

1.4 Academic Advising is to be offered to all students on a fair and equitable basis by College staff who have the tools, training and release time to provide timely academic advice.

1.5 Academic Advising addresses the needs of the College’s diverse student population and is responsive to students in all programs, in all delivery modes.

2. Academic Advising Model

2.1 To support students, the Academic Advising Model is comprised of the following elements:

2.1.1 Centralized Advising Services: coordination, resources, and consultation space in a central location are accessible to all students and faculty throughout the year.

2.1.2 Decentralized Advising Services: faculty advising in each program uses one or more of a variety of approved delivery options, e.g., face-to-face, small group, course-aligned, email, telephone, online and social media.

2.1.3 Tracking System: a College-supported online tracking and reporting system is provided to advisors to be used solely or in combination with program-specific tracking systems.

2.1.4 Training and Professional Development: in-house and external professional development is provided to current and potential advisors. Professors accepting advising roles are to take advantage of academic advising professional development opportunities suitable to their backgrounds, schedules and needs.

2.1.5 Student Access to Advising: to ensure students’ advising needs are met without unreasonable delay, Academic Advisors work as a team within their own program(s) and may be supported by other College staff, such as Student Success Specialists.
2.1.6 Academic Advising Steering Committee:
representatives of the academic, student services and administrative sectors of the College meet once per term or on an as-needs basis. The Committee selects the Academic Advising Coordinator, receives information and reports, and approves benchmarks for assessment and evaluation.

2.1.7 Assessment and Evaluation:
regular assessment and evaluation of approved advising activity are conducted using standards such as those published by the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education.

CODE OF ETHICS FOR ACADEMIC ADVISORS

Academic Advisors are expected to inform themselves of the legal and ethical responsibilities associated with the academic advisor role and follow policy SA01 Rights, Freedoms, Responsibilities and Code of Conduct for the Algonquin College Community.

   a. Academic Advisors adhere to the following universal principles, as recognized by the College, to guide ethical conduct:
      • respect for human dignity,
      • respect for free and informed consent,
      • respect for vulnerable persons,
      • respect for privacy and confidentiality,
      • respect for fairness and equity,
      • respect for trustworthiness and honesty.

   b. Academic Advisors ensure that they:
      • convey impartial respect to all students,
      • respect the students’ rights to make their own decisions about their academic careers.

   c. Academic Advisors do not disclose information acquired from the student while functioning in an advising capacity, except in cases where disclosure is:
      • requested by the student,
      • required to support the academic success of the student,
      • required to avert a clear and imminent danger to the student or others,
      • required to protect the integrity of an academic program.

   d. Academic Advisors clearly communicate to students the particulars of the advisor-advicee relationship in order to identify known conflicts of interest.
