

Dr. Chris Janzen is the Senior Vice President, Academic at Algonquin College, responsible for all of the academic Institutes, Schools, Faculties, and associated services. Prior to that, he was the Dean of the Faculty of Technology and Trades at Algonquin College (2012-2019), responsible for the School of Advanced Technology and the Algonquin Centre for Construction Excellence. He began his tenure at Algonquin as the Chair of the Applied Science and Environmental Technology Department, joining the College in January of 2012.

Prior to joining Algonquin College, Dr. Janzen was a Professor and Chair of the Department of Chemistry at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove Pennsylvania. He received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from Hamline University in St. Paul Minnesota in 1984. After earning his Ph.D. in chemistry from Texas A&M University and spending two years as a post-doctoral fellow at the US National Institutes of Health, he spent 20 years teaching and conducting research in environmental science and extreme environments. During this time, Dr. Janzen also spent seven years serving in municipal government as an elected public official.