Office Administration - General

Ontario College Certificate

1 Year

Ottawa Campus

Academic Year: 2019/2020

Program Code: 0210X01FWO

Our Program

Play a central role in operational success - explore a career in office administration.

The one-year Office Administration Ontario College Certificate program provides the knowledge and skills that prepare you for a rewarding office administration career.

Develop both theoretical and applied skills during various simulated office situations. Practice conducting administrative procedures and producing industry-standard documents. Enhance your ability to use digital tools by conducting research and mastering Microsoft Office applications and other industry-standard software packages.

Our experienced faculty are dedicated to preparing you with the skills you need to succeed in your career. Graduate with essential office skills, as well as critical skills for success, such as resourcefulness, responsibility, creative thinking and problem solving.

After graduating, this flexible one-year program gives you the option to pursue a specialized education by taking one of Algonquin College’s Office Administration diploma programs. Earn a diploma after completing one more year of studies in either the Executive, Health Services, or Legal Studies specializations.

Graduates may find employment opportunities in a variety of entry-level support staff or administration positions in both public and private sectors.

Students who wish to apply for prior learning assessment and recognition (PLAR) need to demonstrate competency at a postsecondary level in all of the course learning requirements. Evidence of learning achievements for PLAR candidates may include a comprehensive challenge examination and/or completion of a portfolio.

Course Descriptions

ACC2207 Bookkeeping

The ability to accurately record day-to-day transactions is an essential skill for bookkeepers and office administration staff. Students begin the accounting cycle, analyzing and recording business transactions and summarizing these transactions in financial statements using Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. Activities focus on the manual preparation of accounting records.

Prerequisite(s): QUA2227
Corerequisite(s): none

ENL1813B Communications I

Communication remains an essential skill sought by employers, regardless of discipline or field of study. Using a practical, vocation-oriented approach, students develop stronger grammar and business writing skills to become effective business communicators. Through a combination of lectures, exercises, and independent learning, students practice writing, speaking, reading, listening, locating and documenting information, and using technology to communicate professionally. Students develop and strengthen communication skills that contribute to success in both educational and workplace environments.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

ENL1962 English Fundamentals

Students develop language skills necessary to promote success in program courses and, ultimately, business careers. Students achieve correctness and mastery in writing sentences appropriate to a business environment through the study of English language usage, grammar, mechanics, and style. Skills acquired in these areas enable students to demonstrate competence in composing, editing, and proofreading written messages.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

GED0210 General Education Elective

Students choose one course, from a group of general education electives, which meets one of the following four theme requirements: Arts in Society, Civic Life, Social and Cultural Understanding, and Personal Understanding.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2275 Document Production I

Canadian business documents reflect the image of an organization. Students format business correspondence, business memos, and letters, with an emphasis on following instructions, proofreading and the correct use of software functions. Students achieve a minimum keyboarding speed of 30 words per minute and a production rate of 15 words per minute with standard word processing software.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2276 Document Production II

Business documents represent proof of an organization's communications and transactions and, as such, must be produced in an efficient and consistent manner. Students work to ensure that their keyboarding speed is up to 40 words per minute and that their production rate is up to 20 words per minute. With an emphasis on following instructions, proofreading and the correct use of software functions, students format complex business correspondence, formal reports and tables.

Prerequisite(s): OFF2275
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2300 Advanced Word Processing

Efficient use of computers and office productivity tools is essential for the timely completion of assigned tasks in the workplace. Students continue to develop their skills with office productivity tools. Through a series of activities and practical tests, students enhance their abilities with advanced word processing functions, ensuring that they are following instructions, proofreading and using software functions correctly.

Prerequisite(s): OFF2275
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2373 Administrative Procedures

Although tools and techniques may change, the role of the administrative assistant remains a valuable asset in all types of organizations. Students construct an introductory awareness of the roles and responsibilities of administrative assistants. They also develop the skills used in a business office environment, including office organization and layout; ergonomics; time, work, and resource management; visual and electronic records management; as well as telecommunication techniques, services and equipment. Practical assignments and case studies examine both the organization and dissemination of oral and written communications.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2377 Computer and Presentation Applications

Efficient use of computers and office productivity tools is essential for the timely completion of assigned tasks in the workplace. Students develop their software skills through a series of activities and practical tests, and increase their abilities with presentation software, ensuring that they are following instructions, proofreading and using software functions correctly. Beginning with the operating system, students develop a range of valuable skills for computer operation, file management, email and electronic calendaring techniques.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2378 Interpersonal Relations

In the context of increased use of technology in today’s workplace, the human touch remains a cornerstone of business interactions and the successful achievement of goals. Students analyze interpersonal relations and effective digital communication in the workplace. Discussions and projects investigate important contemporary topics including cultural diversity, teamwork and problem solving. Students are provided with an opportunity to develop productivity, stress management skills and other competencies for building relationships in the workplace.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

OFF2395 Spreadsheet Applications (OA)

Efficient use of computers and office productivity tools is essential for the timely completion of assigned tasks in the workplace. Students continue to develop their skills with office productivity tools. Through a series of activities and practical tests, students develop a range of valuable skills for computer operation and spreadsheets, ensuring that they are following instructions, proofreading and using software functions properly.

Prerequisite(s): QUA2227
Corerequisite(s): none

QUA2227 Business Math Foundations

Students review the essentials of business mathematics. Ratio, proportion and percent are covered. Students also study payroll-type applications and use bank reconciliations as a tool to manage an office. Students study mark up and mark downs, cost volume profit analysis, simple and compound interest, compute measures of central tendency and dispersion.
