Recreation and Leisure Services

Ontario College Diploma
2 Years
Ottawa Campus

Our Program

Pursue a career supporting healthy living and build stronger communities.

The two-year Recreation and Leisure Services Ontario College Diploma program prepares you to pursue a career in a variety of supporting roles and leadership positions at culturally relevant recreation facilities, parks and in open spaces. In this program, you learn how to make a difference in the community by promoting and advocating for the benefits of recreation, leisure and healthy living.

Experience the fun, exciting and growing recreation and leisure services field. As a student, you complete more than 300 hours of field placement, which provides you with on-the-job training and active experience in the industry.

After graduating, you may find work in a variety of roles. These can include work in not-for-profit and commercial, private or government environments, such as:

- commercial centres
- senior centres
- cruises
- resorts
- adventure tourism
- arts and cultural facilities

SUCCESS FACTORS

This program is well-suited for students who:

- Are passionate about working in a community environment with a focus on helping people explore their leisure interests.
- Enjoy a hands-on approach to learning about the sports and leisure service industry.
- Are intrigued by planning, designing and implementing recreation programs and special events for a variety of people.
- Enjoy leading others in leisure activities that foster camaraderie and personal well-being.
- Are outgoing and inspirational.

Employment

Graduates may find employment as recreation programmers, event planners and program coordinators in municipal recreation departments, volunteer and community agencies, social service agencies, hospitals, therapeutic recreation agencies, retirement or long-term care facilities, resorts and tourism areas.

Learning Outcomes
The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to:

• Develop, implement and evaluate inclusive recreation, leisure and wellness programs and events for individuals, groups and communities which respond to assessed needs, interests, abilities and that use available resources and incorporate best practices.

• Apply administrative and customer service skills to support the delivery of recreation, leisure and wellness programs, events and services.

• Analyze, develop and implement marketing strategies to reach diverse individuals, groups and communities for programs, events, services and facilities using current communication technologies.

• Contribute to the development of fiscally sustainable and responsible recreation, leisure and wellness programs, events and services using current and relevant principles and practices of business, finance and social entrepreneurship.

• Supervise, lead and support the development of staff and volunteers involved with recreation, leisure and wellness programs, events and services.

• Apply safety and accessibility practices to the efficient operation and administration of recreation and leisure facilities and settings.

• Promote the benefits and values of recreation, leisure and healthy active living and recommend inclusive programs, events and services to individuals and groups.

• Apply community development strategies which engage citizens and community partners while advocating for healthy communities.

• Develop strategies for ongoing personal and professional development as a recreation and leisure services professional.

• Identify and apply discipline-specific practices that contribute to the local and global community through social responsibility, economic commitment and environmental stewardship.

Fees for the 2019/2020 Academic Year

Tuition and related ancillary fees for this program can be viewed by using the Tuition and Fees Estimator tool at http://www.algonquincollege.com/fee-estimator.

Further information on fees can be found by visiting the Registrar’s Office website at http://www.algonquincollege.com/ro.

Fees are subject to change.

Additional program related expenses include:

Books and supplies cost approximately $300 per term. Supplies can be purchased at the campus store.

Admission Requirements for the 2020/2021 Academic Year

College Eligibility

- Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD) or equivalent. Applicants with an OSSD showing senior English and/or Mathematics courses at the Basic Level, or with Workplace or Open courses, will be tested to determine their eligibility for admission; OR
- Academic and Career Entrance (ACE) certificate; OR
- General Educational Development (GED) certificate; OR
- Mature Student status (19 years of age or older and without a high school diploma at the start of the program). Eligibility may be determined by academic achievement testing for which a fee of $50 (subject to change) will be charged.

Program Eligibility

- English, Grade 12 (ENG4C or equivalent).
- International applicants must provide proof of the subject specific requirements noted above along with proof of either: (IELTS / TOEFL) IELTS-International English Language Testing Service (Academic) Overall band of 6.0 with a minimum of 5.5 in each band OR TOEFL-Internet-based (IBT)-overall 80, with a minimum of 20 in each component: Reading 20; Listening 20; Speaking 20; Writing 20.
- Applicants with international transcripts must provide proof of the subject specific requirements.
• Applicants with international transcripts must provide proof of the subject specific requirements noted above and may be required to provide proof of language proficiency.

Should the number of qualified applicants exceed the number of available places, applicants will be selected on the basis of their proficiency in English.

Health Requirements:

The physical and emotional health of each applicant to the program must be such that he or she can successfully cope with the program of instruction including the demands of field placement (e.g. stress and time management) Individuals who have concerns about their ability to meet these requirements should contact the coordinator of the program prior to submitting an application.

Police Records Check Documentation

Though not an admission requirement, applicants must note important information listed below regarding Police Record Check program requirements.

Students must provide the College with a current Police Records Check for Service with the Vulnerable Sector (PRCSVS) prior to the deadline identified by the department and students are responsible for any associated costs. If this documentation is not submitted on time, students may not be placed and registration in the program will be jeopardized. If you register in the program without a clear PRCSVS and as a result are unable to participate in placement, you will not be able to graduate and will be asked to withdraw.

Field Placement Eligibility:

Field placements occur in the first and second year of the program.

Hospital and Field Placements/Outreach require Health & Safety, WHMIS and OWHSA training, and approved Non-Violent Crisis Intervention (NVCI) training prior to placements. There are additional costs associated with training that should be anticipated by students which are not covered by tuition fees. To be eligible for placement, you must submit proof of Standard First Aid certification, CPR level C, PRCSVS, and complete immunizations through ParaMed and pay associated costs. ParaMed services are the third-party provider who collects all field placement documentation for the School of Health and Community Studies.

Should you require further information, please contact the Program Chair.

The Recreation and Leisure Services program consists of courses that are delivered in a variety of formats including face-to-face in a classroom, hybrid (combination of classroom and online learning) and online courses. Students participate in laboratory and field placement learning activities. Mandatory field placements may be scheduled outside of regular class hours. Class schedules vary from term to term and courses may be scheduled between the hours of 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Friday.

Students may apply for transfer of academic credits from Algonquin College (internal transfer) or from other institutions (external transfer). College Policies AA09 and AA10 apply to transfer of credits. Students pay a fee for each course they wish to be exempt from and must provide course outlines and transcripts for the course substituted. http://www.algonquincollege.com/directives.

We recognize the importance of prior learning and life experience. Students may apply for credit by challenging courses using Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR). Through either a portfolio or challenge examination, a PLAR may lead to the acceptance of work and life experience in lieu of taking certain courses. College Policy AA06 applies to PLAR. More information can be found at http://www.algonquincollege.com/col/plar.html.

Although part-time study is not available, customized delivery of program components may be arranged.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

PROGRESSION

Students receiving three or more Failures in a term MUST successfully complete these courses prior to moving on to the next level of the program. This may mean that the student sits out a term before returning to the program. Any exceptions to this policy are at the discretion of the faculty team.

For additional program information please contact Patsy Pyke, Program Coordinator at 613-727-4723 ext. 3226 or pykep@algonquincollege.com.

Course Descriptions

ENL1813S Communications I

Communication remains an essential skill sought by employers, regardless of discipline or field of study. Using a practical, vocation-oriented approach, students focus on meeting the requirements of effective communication. Students practise writing, speaking, reading, listening, locating and documenting information, and using technology to communicate professionally. Students develop and strengthen communication skills that contribute to success in both educational and workplace environments.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corequisite(s): none

ENL1832C Report Writing for Recreation

Clear, concise and accurate reporting skills are essential for effective and efficient record keeping and project planning. Students work independently and in groups to research, summarize and organize written and oral reports, specific to recreation and fitness requirements, according to appropriate business standards.
Recreation and Leisure Services

Prerequisite(s): ENL1813S
Corerequisite(s): none

GEDO422 General Education Elective

Students choose one course, from a group of general education electives, which meets one of the following five theme requirements: Arts in Society, Civic Life, Social and Cultural Understanding, Personal Understanding, and Science and Technology.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1302 Program Development I

Program development is a core aspect of practice for recreation professionals. Students are provided with a hands-on and interactive learning environment as they examine the importance and benefits of recreation, as well as the steps and stages to planning, organizing and implementing recreation programs and events. Students study the importance and relevance of mission statements, needs assessments, program promotion and program evaluation.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1303 Introduction to Fieldwork

The ability to understand one’s professional roles and responsibilities in the workplace is foundational to success. Students explore field placement options and workplace expectations along with qualifications and functions of recreation professionals employed in a variety of settings. Particular attention is paid to obtaining the necessary documents to be eligible for field placement opportunities. Students develop skills in time management, stress management, conflict resolution and professional deportment.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1304P Field Placement I

Field placement experiences support the integration of theory and professional expectations in recreation and leisure programs. Students practise and implement strategies related to client service principles, client engagement, program delivery and enhancement, group facilitation and leadership skills.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1303
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1305S Field Placement Seminar I

Students explore the professional role of the recreation profession within the community. Students develop basic skills in networking, documentation, programming and leadership. Students are provided opportunities to practise the skills required to be successful in future field placements.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1303
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1306S Field Placement Seminar II: Career Planning

Building on previous field preparation work, students acquire a deeper awareness of how to prepare for a career in recreation. Students develop a professional career plan, with a focus on their transition to the workforce. Skills in professionalism, networking, interviewing and e-portfolio development are reviewed.

Prerequisite(s): none
Recreation and Leisure Services

RCR1307 Recreation Program Management

Program management and trends in technology are essential skills in today's workplace. Students are provided an opportunity to apply sport and recreation programming concepts using industry recognized computer software. Students explore various types of recreation software, tools for budgeting and social media tools for marketing. These tools are used to develop recreational activities and are then integrated into a simulated service delivery model.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1308 Program Development III-Trends in Recreation

Trends are a significant component in the field of recreation and leisure services. Community needs assessment skills including collection of statistics, research methods, and report writing are presented and applied to planning community programs. Students are also exposed to feasibility studies, master plans, community profiles and develop tools necessary to predict and determine what may be required to meet the needs of various community-based user groups. Particular emphasis is placed on demographics and how they apply to the marketplace.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1302 and RCR1353
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1315 Leadership and Group Dynamics I

Leadership and leadership styles affect society. Students examine different models of leadership, including the situational leadership model of ethics and various leadership styles. Students are exposed to different industry-specific experiences to practice their skills.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1345 Recreation for Older Adults

The demographics are changing in Canada related to an aging population. Students are introduced to the changing scene in recreation with respect to providing opportunities and activities for an aging population. The theories of aging and the aging process are examined. The needs and interests of older adults are considered as they relate to community services, recreation and leisure opportunities and programming principles and practices.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1353 Program Development II: Diverse Populations

Ensuring recreation and leisure programs and activities are accessible to everyone is essential to this profession. Students are introduced to the concepts of diversity and inclusion and how they apply to the delivery of programs and activities. Strategies supporting inclusion of culturally diverse populations, as well as individuals with special needs are covered. Students apply principles of healthy-child and lifespan development and fundamental movement skills to the design and implementation of recreation activities in a hands-on interactive environment.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1302
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1364 Leadership and Group Dynamics II

Advanced communication, motivation, conflict resolution and negotiation skills are essential in leading people and the management of group dynamics in professional environments. Students build on foundational leadership and group dynamic skills related to client relations, communications, team management, effective listening and problem solving. Through classroom activities and presentations, students consolidate their skills and knowledge to effectively lead teams and work through typical team challenges.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1354
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1391 Program Administration

Program success is dependent on four main components of program administration planning, organizing, administration and evaluation. Students explore policy and procedure development, performance management, workplace culture and labour relations, as they relate to the administration of program delivery. Through applied learning activities, students explore the application of service excellence, research methodology, client behavioural issues and procurement practices.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1396 Community Development

Recreation professionals facilitate the growth of healthy communities by mobilizing citizens through the recreation and leisure services provided in the community. Students learn about the community development process within the public and non-profit sectors including community driven strategies for volunteer management, advocacy, fundraising and proposal writing. Students also develop essential skills in networking, building relationships and securing partnerships all necessary to the field of community development.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1409 Sociology of Leisure

Community indicators and the social determinants of health influence the challenges that many communities face on a daily basis. Students assess the recreational, leisure and wellness needs of diverse groups including those of target populations, such as youth at risk, older adults, low socioeconomic status and members of culturally diverse communities. Students identify the barriers (economic, discrimination, health and ability) and constraints of participation in recreation and wellness programs, events and services and develop recreation programming strategies for positive change and inclusion.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1411 Recreation and Human Development

Students are introduced to the fundamental principles of development across the lifespan focusing on physical, cognitive social and emotional development. The major theorists in the field of human development are identified and their theories are compared and contrasted. Students examine practical application of the material as it relates to leisure and recreation opportunities for each stage of development.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1413 Recreation and the Environment

The effects of recreation on the environment and the effects of the environment on recreational opportunities are inevitable. Students are encouraged to integrate an environmental ethic into their personal and professional lives in order to mitigate this impact. Students examine a historical perspective of the environment to gain an understanding of current environmental challenges facing communities and businesses. They study strategies for managing environmental degradation by using indoor and outdoor spaces in an environmentally sustainable way.
RCR1418 Ethics and Values in Recreation

Making the right decision is sometimes difficult to do. Ethical dilemmas arise when there is more than one way to resolve an issue. Students examine personal, social and professional values, beliefs, morals and ethics and how they relate to ethical decision making. In doing so, they develop an appreciation for behaving ethically. Students examine a six-step model for resolving ethical issues.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corequisite(s): none

RCR1419 Therapeutic Recreation II

The Therapeutic Recreation Ontario Standards of Practice are examined in more depth and hands-on application is provided. Students enhance their understanding of Therapeutic Recreation as a professional career choice and gain the basic tools to plan and implement programs for a specific client population.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1437
Corequisite(s): none

RCR1421 Entrepreneurship

In a rapidly changing world, it is important to recognize the role, skills and characteristics associated with entrepreneurship. Students build on marketing principles and explore innovative thinking techniques, personal branding, "pitching" ideas, trends analysis, and local and global entrepreneurship. Students put into practice entrepreneurial skills and strategies to recognize opportunities within the recreation, leisure and wellness sectors. Through individual projects, students engage in the entrepreneurial process to deliver a product or service to today’s marketplace and report on their findings.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1424
Corequisite(s): none

RCR1422S Field Placement Seminar III

Students continue to develop as emerging recreation professionals with the extension of the learning opportunities that integrate theory and practice. Students learn to identify, practise and adapt personal and team skills in preparing for work in the recreation and leisure services field.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corequisite(s): none

RCR1424 Marketing

Knowledge of marketing concepts and strategies are essential in promoting recreation and leisure services. Through the use of technology, in-class activities and guest speakers, students explore consumer behaviour as related to decision making, pricing and communication strategies. As well, students examine the use of social media from a promotional perspective. Through the use of marketing methodology principles, students develop a marketing plan useful in a service industry and discuss a variety of marketing strategies in order to generate revenue and promote programs.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corequisite(s): none

RCR1437 Therapeutic Recreation I

Therapeutic recreation can play a significant role in enhancing the lives of people with special needs. Students gain a basic understanding of the conceptual foundations of therapeutic recreation.
Students acquire knowledge and understanding in identifying barriers to recreation and how to assist those with special needs to overcome their barriers. Students develop an appreciation of how to provide client-centered care/service that focuses on the physical, social, cognitive and emotional needs of a specific client population.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1444 Financial Management

Financial management remains an essential skill sought by employers. Using a practical approach, students examine budget creation and interpretation, cost calculations and basic financial management procedures. Knowledge of financial concepts, budget structures and accounting statements are developed through in-class activities. Students examine financial terms and cost controls as related to financial management procedures. Students prepare and present a current program budget within the structure of a financial plan and “sell” the budget to funding sources.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1447 Risk Management and Legal Issues

Recreation professionals have a significant role to play with participant safety and accessibility practices related to recreation and wellness programs and facility standards. Risk management in recreation involves balancing risks and rewards through the identification, assessment and prioritization of risks. Students explore recreation programming standards, informed consent, insurance, liability and risk management. Students develop skills on how to reduce risk, avoid negligence and liability and provide safe recreation environments.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1448 Fitness in Recreation

Concepts of fitness, health, wellness and lifestyle management are fundamental aspects of fitness in recreation. Students explore these key concepts through lab and theory applications. Students develop strategies for adopting a healthy lifestyle by understanding the benefits of exercise through physical activity, managing stress and understanding proper nutrition.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1449P Field Placement II

Students continue to integrate theory and professional expectations within their chosen field placement. Students further explore their area of interest in the field of recreation and deepen their understanding of program development, implementation and assessment. Students apply knowledge of community development, engagement, risk management and program administration.

Prerequisite(s): RCR1302 and RCR1304 and RCR1306S
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1452P Field Placement III

Students continue to focus on advanced skills in areas such as communication, programming and administration while consolidating knowledge and skills gained in previous placements. Students experience unique opportunities and demonstrate an understanding of how community systems, professionals and clients work together to co-create healthy vibrant communities.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none
RCR1455 Special Events
All events are unique in that they are organized with the benefits of the individual or community group in mind. Events may be in the form of a challenge, celebration, commemoration, conference or tournament. Students examine the guidelines and procedures of event planning from conception to completion, with an experiential learning opportunity. Students apply the skills they have accumulated throughout the program to lead, design, market, manage finances, manage risk, and evaluate the outcomes of an event. Students also become familiar with tournament design formats.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1456 Facilities Management
Students are introduced to facility management practices with a key focus on site visits to recreation facilities and a Long-Term Care facility. Students explore the application of technology, energy management, preventative maintenance, facility operations, project management, facility planning and design and legislation. Through class activities and site visits, students develop a fundamental understanding of commissioning a new facility, the conversion of an existing facility component, and renovating facilities, as related to facilities management.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none

RCR1478 Introduction to Recreation
Recreation and leisure time activities provide opportunities for friendships, purpose and meaning. Recreation activities also contribute to the economy and development of communities. Students examine the role of recreation, leisure and play in Canada. Topics include the history, theories and philosophies of recreation and leisure and how they apply to a career in recreation. Students examine the impact of recreation and leisure activities on wellness and quality of life. A variety of delivery systems and unique recreation groups are identified.

Prerequisite(s): none
Corerequisite(s): none
